Superintendent's Message

To the Class of 2008:

The mission of Tri-County RVTHS is three-fold: to prepare our students for productive employment and, to that end, we at this school respect the dignity of work; to provide a strong educational foundation necessary for college entrance and, to that end, we at this school embrace our high academic standards; and lastly to develop creative, responsible American citizens.

It is the last element of our mission that I would like to consider at this time.
Citizenship can mean different things to different people and its importance in ones life can vary from day to day.

Its significance, however, becomes more important and more poignant when our Country is at war. Then, the responsibilities of being an American citizen are imbued with feelings of loyalty and patriotism. Each of you will determine what is right for you; how you demonstrate pride in this Country; and how you exercise your freedom to make those decisions.

Your graduation ceremony was a celebration. It was meant to celebrate the vocational and technical skills you have acquired; it was meant to celebrate the academics you have learned; and it was meant to celebrate the productive citizens you have become. Take these qualities with you as you leave Tri-County and put them to good use. Become the person you are meant to be and build an even better nation by combining your vocational skills, your academic knowledge and, most importantly, your American citizenship.

Good luck and come back soon!

Sincerely,

Barbara A. Renzoni
Superintendent-Director

Principal's Message

What can I say, but well done. As I sit back and reflect on the accomplishments of this class, I am amazed. Both individually and collectively, this class has performed and has met success. Your graduation was a culmination of that success. Although I am thrilled with your accomplishments, I am more excited at the potential that you possess.

The sky is truly the limit. My mother always said that you could be what ever you wanted to be and that you could accomplish anything you try as long as you work hard. I know that Tri-County has provided excellent training to you in the both the academic and vocational areas. Through your years at Tri-County, you have also learned what a strong work ethic is all about.

To meet your potential you must also make good choices in your life. Your parents and family, as well as the faculty and staff of Tri-County have built the foundation in this area. It is your job to build on that foundation. My hope is that you continue to make the choices that will continue to place you on the path to future success and happiness.

I would like to pass some words of advice along to you to help you on your journey. The first is to treat people with the same respect that you want from them. Relationships are a major part of life and you will never know how many peoples life you will affect. Work to make positive impressions on those people you meet.

The second idea I would like to share with you is to dream and plan. Do not become a person that is always happy with the way it is, but in fact work to make the way it is better. This is true in both your personal and professional life. Make a difference in the world. Try to leave every place you have been a little better than you how found it. This is what you have done for Tri-County so now share it with the world.

My last piece of advice I would like to share with you comes from the poet Edna St. Vincent Millay.

Look to this day for it is life. The very life of life
In its brief course lie the verities and virtues of existence
The bliss of growth, the splendor of action and the glory of power
For yesterday is a dream and tomorrow a vision, but today well lived
Makes every yesterday a dream of happiness and every tomorrow a vision of hope
Look well therefore to this day for it is life

Live and enjoy each day.

Dream Big Author unknown

If there were ever a time to dare,
To make a difference
To embark on something worth doing
It is now.
Not for any grand cause, necessarily
But for something that tugs at your heart
Something that is worth your aspiration
Something that is your dream.
You owe it to yourself
To make your days count.
Have fun. Dig deep. Stretch.
Dream big.

Know, though,
That things worth doing
Seldom come easy,
There will be times when you want to
Turn around
Pack it up and call it quits
Those times tell you
That you are pushing yourself
And that you are not afraid to learn by trying.

Persist.

Because with an idea,
Determination and the right tools,
You can do great things.
Let your instincts, your intellect
And let your heart guide you.

Trust.

Believe in the incredible power
Of the human mind
Of doing something that makes a difference
Of working hard
Of laughing and hoping
Of lasting friends
Of all the things that will cross your path
Next year
The start of something new
Brings the hope of something great.
Anything is possible
There is only one you
And you will pass this way but once.

Do it right.

In Loving Memory

Kayla Ann Kerrins

February 23, 1990 - February 17, 2005

There's a very special garden
Where the trees of memory grow,
Nurtured by the kindness
And concern that good friends show
The roots are cherished memories,
Of good times in the past
The branches tender promises
That souls endure and last.
It's a place of peace and beauty
Where bright new hopes can start
It's memory's lovely garden
That soothes the hurting heart.

Nelson, Gina, Leah and me. Late one winter night we decided to go pond hopping. We went ice skating in Franklin and North Attleboro. We drove around to those towns stopping at ponds we saw frozen. We all ice skated and had a good time. Until me and Nelson wanted to play a game of who could go out on the pond further. Then the ice broke. Thats when we ran from the ice to the car and began our ride home. Before we could get home we got stuck waiting for a train to pass by. We video taped it all and watched it. The tape got wet and was a little different from what we remember, it actually was more hilarious and oh, yes they will never win.

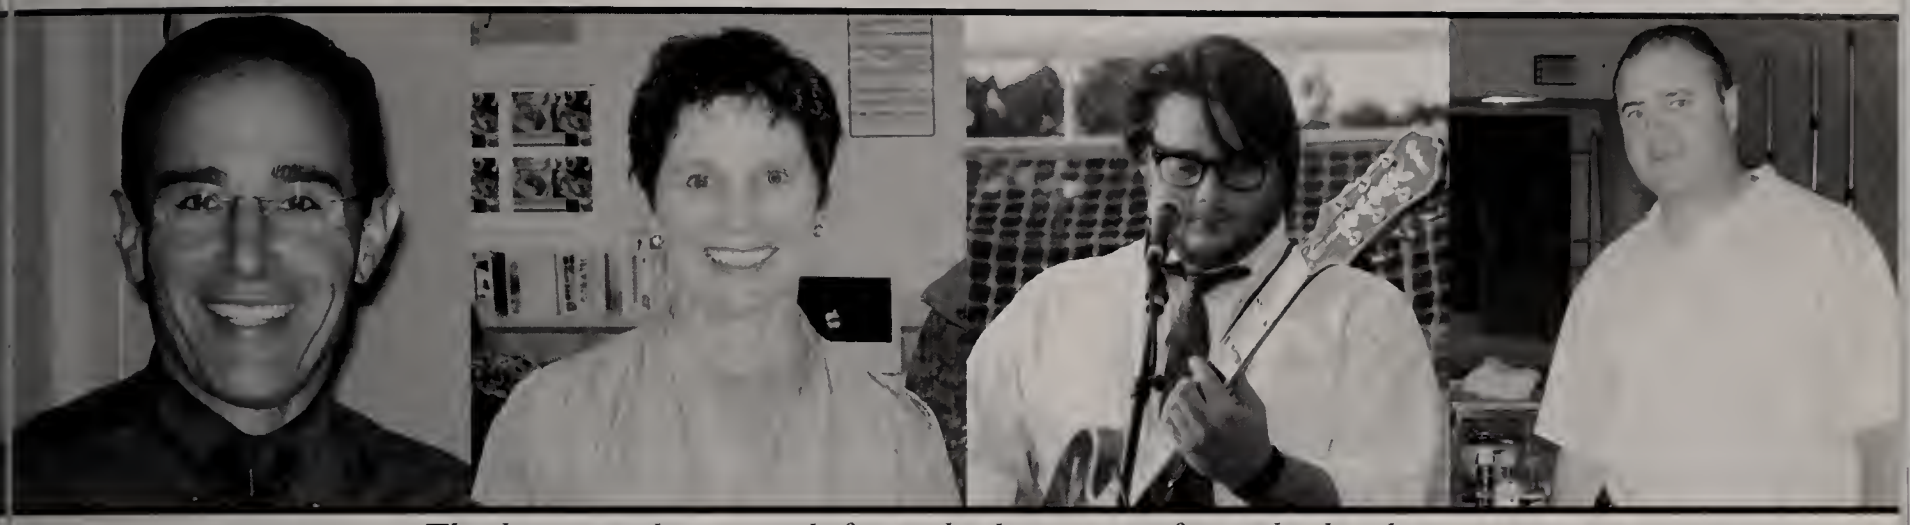
Faculty, Staff & Administrators



The best teachers teach from the heart, not from the book.

A teacher's purpose is not to create students in his own image, but to develop students who can create their own image.
